Farmer and Gardener Advised by the Germantown Telegraph

Gather the Leaves Forest leaves are excellent to supply the stable yards, and where straw is scarce also the cow stables and hog pens. They can be most conveniently gathered just after falling, when there is some weight in them, or after the first snow and before the winter black. them, or after the first snow and before the wintry blasts have scattered them. They then lay compactly and being moist or heavy can be handled with greater facility. A cart with a few standards stuck in the sides will hold a considerable quantity; and the best thing to gather them or load them with is a wooden hand-rake; a wooden four-tined straw fork is also very handy when the leaves are moist. Leaves absorb large quantities of the liquid manure and are an excellent fertilizer in the spring. They can be gathered too when other labor about the farm is slack.

It is not within remembrance that we have a factor and the spring that the farm is slack.

It is not within remembrance that we have a factor and the farm is slack.

It is not within remembrance that we have a factor and before the Bladder, Brickdust Deposit, Painful Urinating, High Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pain in the Back seem more like miracles than cases of natural healing. It is not within remembrance that we have seen a heavier and better crop of cornfodder than that of the present year, so far as this section is concerned. It is clean and bright, never having been touched with a heavy rain-storm, by which it is sometimes thrown down and dirtied. It is also more carefully put in shucks than was formerly the case; and now if the crop is husked and secured before it shall be come moulded by being too long kept closely bound and excluded from the air, will be a supply of cornfodder quantity and quality, the farn. For cattle it is exwhich, for mer has rarely sec-cellent, even milch cows thriving well upon teamed and it, especially if it be cut and b.

sprinkled with a little corn-mea. eaves too for driving-horses are excellent. In putting in stacks, either in the field or near the barn, after being husked, it is not necessary that it should be under cover, provided it is packed with the buts in the centre, and thus built up and given a slight descent to the outside of the stack to carry off the rain. Removing Small Stones.

We have now before us a short and sharp paragraph on the necessity and security of removing from the highways the loose small stones which are so frequently allowed by road-repairers to remain scattered about on the road-bed. The article referred to says : "A single stone, which might be thrown out in two seconds, is sometimes struck by wagon wheels fifty times a-day, or more than 10,000 times a year. Ten thousand blows of a sledge hammer as hard on one wagen would probably demolish it entirely, and the stone does no less harm because it divides its blows among a hundred vehicles. There is, therefore, probably no investment that would pay a higher rate of profit than a few dollars' worth of work in clearing public highways of loose and fixed stones.

In connection with this subject we may mention that in passing over the turnpike running from the Foxchase village, in the Twenty-third ward, to Huntingdon valley, a couple of years ago, we noticed a laborer gathering up the loose stones, using a heavy iron rake for the purpose, and after raking them into little heaps, shoveling them into a wheelbarrow whence they used when there was occasion for it. We stopped at the next "gate" and inquired if this was the usual practice of the company, and were answered that it was. We then said that no one would complain of paying his toll where such care was taken to protect vehicles and horses from damage; and besides, we marked, that this is the best kept turnpi e we ever passed over in Pennsylvania.

Feels Young Again. "My mother was afflicted a long time with Neuralgia and a dull, heavy inactive condition of the whole system; headache, nervous pros-tration, and was almost helpless. No physi-cians or medicines did her any good. Three months ago she began to use Hop Bitters, with such good effect that she seems and feels young again, although over 70 years old. We think there is no other medicine fit to use in the family."—A lady, in Providence, B. 1.

A Happy Restoration. I can truly say that I owe my present existence and happy restoration to the hopes and joys of life, to the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and I say to everyone suffering from any manner of kidney, liver or urinary trouble, "Use this remedy and recover."

It can be used without regard to diet, is pleasaut in taste, and better than all, it is a sure, safe and certain cure. It is no quack medicine, but stands upon its own merits, as any trial wil amply demonstrate. Since 1836 this remedy has always been sold for a much larger price than that for which it is now sold; but owing to the sot that the time for the payment of an enormous royalty upon its manufacture has expired, it is offered to the suffering of both sexes at one dollar per package, so as to be within the reach of all; at which price it will be sent to any address tree of further charge.

INVESTIGATION!

DB. GREENE has successfully treated over 800 of the most difficult chronic (so called) incurable cases during a seven month's practice. The most of them had been the rounds of the leading physicians of Lancaster county. Now DR. GREENE is ready at any time to meet a committee of the Lancaster County Medical Society at the Opera House or elsewhere to discuss the merits of Omnipathy and prove its superiority over all other pathies in vogue.

The people are greatly interested and demand the fullest investigation. Invalids are every week dying in this county whose lives could be saved. Is there any subject about which the masses are more concerned than which the masses are more concerned that restoration to health, and the prolonging o Dr. G. originated and is now the owner of 29 Medical Pads.
